

PRESIDENT HAS PLAN TO END THE COAL STRIKE

ALABAMA'S JUNIOR ORDER COUNCILS IN CONVENTION HERE; ATTENDANCE GOOD

Executive Session Being Held By the Delegates During Tuesday

WARMLY WELCOMED AT NIGHT'S SESSION

Delegates Hold Get-Together Meeting, Mayor E. C. Payne Speaks

With additional delegates here, the Junior Order convention today was meeting behind closed doors. The convention is expected to conclude its work at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The State Convention of the Junior Order of American Mechanics now in session in Odd Fellow's Hall, just over the new Post Office rooms on Second Avenue, held its initial session last night, with welcome speeches, responses, a luncheon to all the scores of delegates and their guests, and good fellowship in largest abundance. Just as the weather was ideal, so seemed every thing else at last night's session. Formality was thrown to the winds, and every one present got busy getting acquainted with his nearest neighbors. The rooms just off the auditorium, where the speaking was, were filled to overflowing a few minutes after seven P. M., with the delegates and their friends as they were being served by local committees of Junior Order members, to hot coffee with cream and sugar, with sandwiches that called for more, all the fruits now in season, and with loads and loads of ice cream made in most of the colors of the rainbow and just as delicious as the rainbow appears to the eyes of the lovers on nature.

Welcomed By Payne

The convention assembled in open session at 8 p.m., with Past State Counselor T. T. Knock, of Birmingham, presiding and assisted by Junior Past Counselor William J. Stevens, of Huntsville. With the large hall entirely filled; Mayor E. C. Payne, of Albany, began his address of welcome, which Melvin Hutson in a subsequent address described as "able and magnificent". Mr. Payne never appeared to better advantage, and after the usual pleasantries of welcome, in which the delegates were told the whole town belonged to them and that they were to take such parts of it home with them as fancy might dictate, the Mayor spoke in serious vein in part as follows:

I have two hobbies and let me say right here that every man ought to have a hobby as a hobby is something that drives one on to accomplishment. One who has a hobby thinks of it during the day, and dreams of it at night and is never satisfied until he realizes his dreams. Edison had a hobby, and he was not content until he had produced the electric light. Bell had a hobby and he could not rest until he had made a telephone. Henry Ford had a hobby to make a horseless carriage and the result is a "tin lizzie" for each of us. He also has a great hobby desire to develop Muscle Shoals and neither he nor we will never be satisfied until he gets it! (Applause).

Now I have said I have two hobbies—one of which I know very little about although I have worked on it some. The other I know all about. The first is municipal government, almost anyone can teach me along that line. But the second no one can tell me anything about. And that is what constitutes a good American citizen. Your order points the way.

In the declaration of principles of the J. O. U. A. M. You stress the following:

1. Emigration
2. Devotion to the Public Schools.
3. The English Language.
4. Reading of the Bible in the Public Schools and Anarchists.

All of the principles can be translated into one word and that word to Americans is the greatest word in the English language—Americanism.

Yank Commander Takes Horseback Ride

General John J. Pershing, who commanded the American Expeditionary Forces, is enthusiastic over horses. As an attestation of his virility he recently took an eighty-mile ride astride his favorite mount on an inspection trip through Virginia military camps.

Y NEARING GOAL IN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE COMMITTEES AVER

The final days of the R. R. Y. M. C. A. membership campaign are proving fruitful ones according to the General Chairman C. W. Matthews. The total had gone beyond 400, with every indication that at least 600 members will be written before the curtain goes down. The work of Messrs. Matthews, Hodson and Randolph in Decatur Saturday proved to be of high value. In every instance the canvassers were received cordially, and with the exception of four regular memberships, every one was a sustaining membership, while Mr. McMath of the Chero-Cola Company kept up his old reputation for liberality by making the same subscription this year as last—the sum of $25.00. Mr. Matthews stated that the response of Decatur citizens had surpassed his expectations, and that what they did has added considerably to the enthusiasm of the committees.

"I understand we are to make another trip to Decatur," said Mr. Matthews, "and if we are as successful then as we were Saturday, the shops end of town will have to move up a bit. I understand from Mr. Rahm, that considerable more work is due to be done in Albany, and we are expecting about as many more subscribers to the 'Y' in Albany as we already have."

Mr. Matthews stated that work in the Round House, led by Sam Surratt, began yesterday and that about twenty-five names were secured for membership. The car department has continued to make a good showing, and one of the workers is reported to have gotten a list of 25 members. An important feature of the present campaign is that all pledges are made in such a way that they can be turned into money at any time, and besides the work for memberships this year has been done without expense—these two considerations will benefit the association in a financial way no little, according to Chairman Matthews.

Secretary Randolph said that the community was coming to realize that the association was giving them an opportunity to serve the men and boys, and not just a chance to buy privileges for themselves. He stated that an executive committee was held of the committee of management, and it was determined that every member of the committee should head a sub-committee pledged to accomplish certain reforms and tasks, with the understanding that each member must

WORKERS NAMED FOR HARTSELLE IN KIDDIES AID DRIVE

At a union service held Sunday night at the First Christian Church at Hartselle, the work being carried forward in the county by the Children's Aid Society was given further impetus when Miss Virginia Handley, the Extension Secretary, addressed the large audience. A large committee was selected at this time to help carry forward the campaign which promises to accomplish much good.

Dr. Middleton S. Barnwell, of Birmingham, will be in the Twin Cities Thursday to speak to the Kiwanis Club in the place of Dr. Henry M. Edmonds, as it was impossible for him to make the date. Dr. Barnwell is a past president of the Kiwanis Club of Birmingham, a most effective speaker, and will have a message. The following compose the Hartselle committee:

Rev. R. L. Harroll, Chairman; C. L. Lee, Vice Chairman; G. C. Graves, Secretary and Treasurer.

O. A. Bird, Rev. R. M. Howell, General Committee.

Masonic Order: Jno. T. Cooper, Chairman.

K. of P. Order: D. W. McNeill, Chairman.

Delta Zeta Club: Ruth Sharpley, Chairman.

Thursday Club: Mrs. J. L. Rountree, Chairman.

Culture Club: Mrs. C. I. Lee, Chairman.

Missionary Society: (Methodist) Mrs. L. S. Echols, Chairman.

Missionary Society (Christian) Mrs. P. Pattillo, Chairman.

Missionary Society, (Baptist), Mrs. R. L. Sherrill, Chairman.

Missionary Society, (Presbyterian) Mrs. Arthur Stephenson, Chairman.

see that the work undertaken was accomplished, or that he absolutely refuse to undertake it. A committee of three one of which is the secretary was appointed to designate the definite activities that are to be taken up at this time. Two tasks were settled upon—first the maintenance of religious meetings at the shops, and second the establishing of the game of volley ball at the shops during the noon hour. H. C. Hutchison, was named to see after the volley ball games and W. R. McCluskey to arrange for the religious meetings.

BIG DAMAGE DONE BY PAIR OF EARLY MORNING FIRES ON MOULTON STREET

Laundry and Furniture Stores Suffer Losses in the Blazes

STARTED IN THE BOILER ROOM, IT IS SAID

Sparks Believed to Have Carried the Blaze to Furniture Store

At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning an alarm of fire brought the Albany fire department to the Model Laundry on Moulton street where it was found that the entire boiler and engine room of the plant was on fire. The fire had evidently been burning for some time as good headway had been made by the flames, the overhead wood work being practically destroyed. This was gotten under control, being confined to the place of starting. The main laundry room was not damaged except by being flooded.

At 5 a. m. another fire was discovered in the furniture store of J. W. Sherrill in the same block. The stock of furniture was practically completely destroyed. Dinsmore brothers, who are directly west and next to the Sherrill store, suffered considerably from water, heat and smoke. The fact that the building is of concrete construction made it possible to save the building. The Sherrill store is supposed to have caught fire from sparks from the laundry fire, and was not discovered until it had gained such headway that it was impossible to save any of the contents. The origin of fire is unknown. It is understood that the Sherrill stock was partially covered by insurance, as was Dinsmore Brothers.

The fire is supposed to have crossed at the extreme back of the laundry building to the Sherrill store, thence to Dinsmore Brothers. Dinsmore Brothers carried considerable new furniture in addition to second hand goods. They are awaiting an adjuster before attempting to do any further business.

The total loss to all the establishments affected will reach several thousand dollars. The fire ladders did brilliant work.

AMERICA LENIENT IN MATTER DEBT

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The United States will fund the $11,000,000,000 debt of Europe on a basis of convenience for foreign debtors, it became known today after informal discussions of the debt question between British Ambassador Geddes and Secretary of State Hughes.

The American plan, while only tentatively outlined, is to allow the foreign debtors to indicate to this government how and when their obligations can be liquidated.

Until the views of the several countries have been indicated, this government, it is said, will not possess sufficient financial or other vital information upon which to proceed with the funding negotiations.

THREE FIRES

The Albany fire department has responded to three fires during the last 24 hours. At 1:30 p. m. Monday the first run of the three was made to the home of G. W. Warrick, 719 3rd avenue west. Sparks; little damage. The two alarms Tuesday morning on Moulton street making the proverbial three. It is generally conceded by the boys of the fire department that the fires come in denominations of three. It is borne out in many instances. Among railroad men one wreck is the notice that two more are to follow. It is stated that in a surprising number of cases this is the rule.

What Process Is Mr. Ford to Use

Testimony before the congressional investigating committees in Washington to the effect that Mr. Ford has come into the possession of a formula for making fertilizer which will cut the price in half if he is given Muscle Shoals, is causing a great deal of speculation.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The original contract submitted by Ford contained no financial provision for the corporation for operation of the plant, but the amendment was offered before the senate agriculture committee as evidence of Ford's good intentions in seeking control of the government's nitrate project. The corporation would be directed by a board of nine members.

The amendment was explained to the senate committee by William B. Mayo, chief of Ford's engineers. Mayo declared it had been added to the original contract, which also was modified in other ways, in order to prove to the public that Ford intended to use every effort to manufacture fertilizer cheaply if given control of the project.

During the cross examination of Mayo, the committee learned that Ford would not consider making any interest payments to the government on amounts already spent to construct the Muscle Shoals project.

Interest payments, Mayo said, will be made solely on the amount spent in completing the project.

CRAWFORD PRAISED BY THE TENNESSEAN

Praise for Postmaster W. E. Crawford, of Decatur, and tribute to his record of never having had a complaint made against him at Washington, is contained in an article published in the column conducted by T. H. Alexander, himself former Albany postmaster, in The Nashville Tennessean. The article follows:

We of Nashville think our own Charlie McCabe is considerable of a postmaster and he is. But that to the tale of an Alabama postmaster who was so good that President Harding had to appoint him for a third term, although he is an old fashioned regular Democrat.

William E. Crawford, whose picture appears above, is now entering on his tenth year as postmaster at Decatur, Ala. He is a native Alabamian but was educated at the old Winchester normal—educated so well that civil service commission had to give him a grade of more than 90 per cent in a competitive examination in which he and five Republicans competed.

Some of his friends thought he didn't have a chance with two Republicans on the eligible register but their doubts didn't deter them from making a strong fight. The whole town got behind their postmaster. The postoffice department was deluged with hundreds of letters from both black and white patrons of the office. They told Will Hayes and Dr. Herbert Work that they wouldn't be satisfied with any other man to handle their mails.

Senator Oscar Underwood, an old time friend of the President, although the Democratic leader in the Senate, added the weight of his influence to the petitions. He was backed up by Senator J. Tom Heflin and Judge Ed B. Almon, the Muscle Shoals Congressman. They told Republican leaders they could not afford not to appoint a man so conspicuously efficient and so universally popular, and they won after a hot argument, a victory over the Alabama Republican pie brigade.

Personally, Mr. Crawford or "Bill" as he is familiarly known to his friends, is full width and guaranteed not to shrink. He numbers his friends by the hundreds. His wife is the politician of the family, however. She is the daughter of Judge William E. Skeggs of Albany, who served Morgan County as Probate Judge for almost thirty years. Her uncle is Henry Skeggs who was the big chief in Decatur politics for years. He is now United States Marshal. "Marse Henry" he is called.

During all his years of service as postmaster at Decatur not a complaint has ever been made against Mr. Crawford to the department at Washington which, as any postmaster can tell you, is distinctly going some.

Mrs. Burk Dead In Chattanooga

News was received here today of the death in Chattanooga of Mrs. Nannie Burk, mother of J. J. Burk, of the Twin Cities. Mr. and Mrs. Burk were called to Chattanooga several days ago by the serious illness of his mother.

The Burk Auto company was closed today.

GENOA-PARLEY IS POLITICAL ONE NOW

(International News Service.)

GENOA, May 2.—The Genoa economic conference has become the Genoa political conference and if Lloyd George's plans go through, the present meeting and its sequel at San Remo will overshadow the Paris peace conference.

The United States will be invited to attend the meeting. Lloyd George wants to bring all of the participating nations and the United States as well into a general treaty whose scope will rival that of the treaty of Versailles. The two great questions that would be covered by this treaty are: 1. Boundary disputes. 2. Limitation of land armament.

The British Premier believes the settlement of these issues will open the door for economic disarmament.

Central Labor Union Has Meet

The Central Labor Union met in regular session last night in Carmen's Hall, with Vice President George H. Grady presiding. In the absence of the Secretary W. R. McCluskey was appointed Secretary pro tem, and later a permanent secretary was elected in the person of H. O. Moore. Delegates were named as following to the state convention of the Alabama Federation of Labor which convenes in Gadsden, May 16th—George M. Grady, J. E. Blair, W. G. Gentry, D. C. Jones, J. D. Cloud, Alternates: C. H. Gray, John Longier, H. K. Latsch, W. N. Thomas and R. H. Hancock.

Before the regular session opened Captain Abbott of the local Salvation army made an address in which he stated that the community house soup kitchen was closed two weeks ago after having served 3,394 meals in about six weeks time. The speaker stated that the regular Salvation Army campaign for funds would open the latter part of this month, and he asked for opportunities to address the several crafts of the Twin Cities. The carpenters, machinists, blacksmiths and sheet metal workers extended invitations.

MILLION PROVIDED FOR FLOOD RELIEF

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—An appropriation of $1,000,000 for relief of flood sufferers in the Mississippi river valley is authorized by a bill favorably reported from the house agricultural committee.

The bill was presented by Congressman Denison, of Illinois. It gives the Secretary of Agriculture authority to supply the impoverished farmers with seed grain for planting of new crops, providing pay employment to those desiring work and helping destitute, suffering families in Illinois, Missouri, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

HARDING WILL ACT WITHIN ONE MONTH TO END TROUBLES IN MINE INDUSTRY

Chief Executive Will Be Backed By All Government's Powers

HARSH MEASURES NOT CONTEMPLATED NOW

Joint Conference, With Government As Advisor, Now Are Planned

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Unless the coal strike is amicably settled within the next month, President Harding, backed by all the powers of the government, will act to end the now month old controversy, it was learned today.

With Secretary of Commerce Hoover and other of his cabinet officers, the President has about concluded a plan for curing the strike diseased coal industry.

The plan, it was learned today does not contemplate harsh measures with either the operators or striking miners. Rather it involves the offering of inducements by the government to encourage greater summer production of coal; to furnish greater storage facilities through government loans; to lower freight rates on coal during the summer.

To accomplish these remedies, the President, if called upon to act in the interest of the public, will suggest a joint conference sanctioned by the government.

While the President is busy working out details of his plan for settlement of the pending strike, the house labor committee continued today its work of framing legislation designed to avert future coal strike.

Build Now Saves Over Later Cost

"Build Now" is a safe slogan, according to a letter received by Otto Moebes from a friend in Ottawa, Ill. The latter writes: "I just received a letter from a friend in Detroit from which I quote: 'We are just completing plans to build a new club house costing our club two million bucks. It was decided at this meeting, after interesting talks from the big men who really knew, and who gave out their knowledge of affairs to merely aid the club, to start building at once. These big men gave out the 'dope' that things are going to hum fast this summer. The contractor stated that he could build it 20 percent cheaper if he got the order to go ahead now than he could 90 days from now, as there would be a big labor shortage. Such is the case now in New York city and is working westward over the big cities. And you know what shortage of labor means—much better times, and people will be spending their money.'"

The Ala. Children's Aid Society

Miss Virginia Handley, Extension Secretary of the Ala. Children's Aid Society, spoke Sunday in the Churches of Albany in the interest of the 10,000 neglected, abandoned children in our state. Great interest has been aroused in the cause. The people of the Twin Cities are determined to do their share to provide for the children of Morgan Co.

Each city has a general chairman, who has appointed a chair for each men's club and a chairman for each women's club of Albany-Decatur, also a chairman for every church and Sunday School. Organized classes are expected to make contributions, and the children in the Sunday Schools in other S. S. throughout the State are giving a dime each to help care for other less fortunate children. Let our christian people unite in giving to this most appealing cause. Every cent given goes directly to the children, the salaries of the workers being paid by the State Child Welfare Dept.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

LEST WE FORGET.

Three is one thing which should not be lost sight of in the scramble to maintain other interests in which we are all more or less interested, and that is, the Muscle Shoals Association. This association has at a great expense to a comparatively few, borne the expense of keeping the great project prominently in the foreground, and have necessarily been put to great expense.

This being a matter in which every one is vitally interested, it should be a pleasure to contribute one dollar to the association. It can be sent to the secretary of the Muscle Shoals Association at Birmingham, they will at once enroll you as a member and send you a button with the following inscription: "Ford for Muscle Shoals." Do it today.

PROMISE OF ACTION ON MUSCLE SHOALS IS SEEN.

The Selma Times-Journal thinks the Republicans purpose to "junk" the Muscle Shoals project will not be carried out. Too many big bidders among great corporations are coming forward, the Times-Journal intimates and the Republicans cannot afford to carry out the "junking" threat without making some big Republican-controlled corporation angry.

The Times-Journal says: "The head of the aluminum trust says he will enter an offer for the nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, thus making the fifth bidder for the properties. It may now be regarded as an assured certainty that the Republican purpose to junk the plant will be abandoned and that activities on a wide scale in the not distant future will start up in the Tennessee valley. But the people of those regions are still true to their first love and are clamoring 'we want our Henry.'"

Word from Washington today is that a new twist has been given to the Muscle Shoals matter, and that the House Military Affairs committee will have Messrs. Mayo and Worthington, representatives of Ford, appear again before that committee. Perhaps an echo of the very general protest against "junking" Muscle Shoals has penetrated Congressional walls.

What most is puzzling the people appears to be the disinclination of the House committee to reach a decision quickly on the Muscle Shoals proposition. Weeks have dragged by with nothing apparently done to bring the matter to a head. If it had been left to a vote of the people doubtless the Ford bid would have been accepted almost unanimously, but the people only can urge, they cannot force a congressional committee to act. It may be, however, that the protests of the people may help to force action, and that may be the answer to the new activity in the Muscle Shoals proposition.

Something should be done, and done quickly, to put the great project in shape for the people to derive some benefit from it. If Ford is not to get it, someone else who will operate it as Ford proposed to do, should be awarded the contract. The project is too big a thing to go to waste.—Anniston Star.

STILL THEY COME.

Another gentleman, "after consultation with war department officials," announces that he will submit an offer for Muscle Shoals. And thus the game proceeds. The most conspicuous feature of the situation is the extreme leisure with which consideration of the matter is carried on. The house committee which was to dispose of it in a week or ten days has now devoted about four months to it and is nowhere near ready to report. The senate committee will begin its investigation this week—it has been waiting quite patiently—and the Lord only knows when it will get through with it.

While all of this tomfoolery is going on, senators and congressmen continue to give out incoherent and divergent statements. One is provoked to smile, thinking that they expect anybody to take their obtuse antics seriously. Incompetency was seldom more thoroughly exemplified. The ease with which our representatives have been stampeded by the interests has doubtless been a surprise even to the latter. And all the time, the impression seems to prevail at Washington that the people are being fooled. There may be an awakening one of these days.—Chattanooga News.

A human heart story full of pathos and interest is related with the building of the new First Christian church which was dedicated at Hartselle Sunday, when its doors were thrown open with a cordial invitation for all to come and worship. The church was begun six years ago. Andrew A. Oden, one of the charter members of the congregation there, being one of the prime movers in the building of a church of this character.

The building was begun when business matters might be said to be at its height, and the congregation figured on the present magnificent church, believing that with money matters as they were at that time the project could be carried to completion. A reversal of conditions was true. How faithfully, and at how great a sacrifice the relatively small congregation labored and spent that the church might be a reality, no one will ever know save those who have built their very beings into its walls, by the devotion and constancy with which they labored, prayed and wept that their dream might be realized. Oden was taken sick. He was the leader in the movement. Before he died, it is stated by one of the members that he confided to him his earnest wish, and rather placed the mantle self imposed upon himself, upon the shoulders of his brother member, with the words, "do not let the undertaking be a failure". How much this request has spurred on when the time was dark and no way could be seen out, will never be known. Today, the splendid brown stone church stands completed, a monument to the untiring efforts and labors of those faithful men and women who dared to continue to go forward.

This is animal week. A time set apart by those who have given thought and time to have dumb animals better treated. When it is considered that these dumb animals are our willing servants, doing our bidding at all times, day or night, working willingly so long as their strength holds out on just who we see fit to give them, asking nothing in return except a shelter and food, we begin to see that these dumb ones are our real friends. In this country, be it said to our shame, there is much cruelty, especially to horse stock. Many of them are required to draw burdens, which in their poor condition they are not capable of successfully handling. On the streets each day, and on the country roads there are beasts of burden overloaded, cruelly treated and not given a fighting chance. It should not be so. There ought to be a remedy for this existing evil; they cannot speak for themselves; there ought to be those who would raise their voice in their behalf.

The schools will soon be closed. Soon the work of the year will be analyzed and it will be brought out just what each has accomplished. This will be determined in the final examinations which will be held this week in many of the schools. Those who have applied themselves will be ready to meet the test, with no uneasiness about the result. Those who have dragged along with no effort to learn and master the problems which presented from day to day, will, if they pass at all, be lower grades than those spoken of above. If the young people could be made to see the golden opportunities which are theirs in this school matter; if they could grasp and understand just how much sacrifice was being made on the part of those who were striving to give them an education, they would redouble their efforts and seek to improve every moment of time in school.

A city should be one great home composed of many people. Everything of a helpful nature should be fostered by all alike. Surely what benefits one will benefit the other. In matters of public interest which affect the entire citizenship, there should be a wholehearted joining in together to accomplish the end sought. In the clean-up campaign which is now on in the Twin cities, everybody can do their mite by simply co-operating cheerfully and gladly with those who have the active management of it. A clean city reduces disease to a minimum; it provides against it in your own home. Should sanitary matters obtain in one portion of the city and not throughout its entirety, no section would be immune from disease. Disease breeding places in one section of a city make it possible to have disease in every home. Do your bit.

From all appearances to date this is to be a very fine hay year. There has moisture abundant and the native grasses have grown with remarkable rapidity. Hay normally is begun to be cut in May. Some have already been harvesting, and should plenty of sunshiny weather continue there will be lots of it garnered before the last days of May. This country never had so much hay, real hay; but it has had too much of the inferior kind which had no food value or money value either. Many cut sage grass which is practically a loss of time. It is unfit for stock and does not command a price in the markets. The clovers which are raised in the county do well and command a good price on any market; good hay is whole feed for stock when not actively engaged in active work. It is a wonder that more land is not devoted to the raising of clovers which all do well in this section.

It is said by scientists that when the timber is all cleared from the forests and mountainsides that such a country will be subject to frequent and serious overflows upon the part of the rivers of the country. The forest it is contended, takes up a great part of moisture, which is reasonable indeed, when it is considered how large trees sap all the moisture near fields where crops are planted. This being true, a conservation of the forests is more imperative than ever. The recent floods in various parts of the country will no doubt call for more study upon the part of the scientists of the country than formerly, in the effort to find out just what part the destruction of the forests really have in controlling the tides and damage by heavy rains.

The Republican party has spent most of the time since they took charge of the national government discussing whether or not they would carry out, the pledges made to the people during the campaign which was made from the porch at a place called Marion. The spellbinders have ceased to spell; the good old times many predicted and looked to come to pass has failed to materialize; the crowning capstone of the present administration will be the tariff law that now seems to be captured, and the threat is made that it will be released from captivity soon; and may the good Lord help us if it is.

The state democratic executive committee meets at Birmingham at 1 o'clock April 28th. The purpose of this meeting is to straighten out some entanglements in regard to candidates failing to meet all the qualifications as laid down at a former meeting in the city of Montgomery. These conditions cannot now be met without the sanction of the committee which comes together for this purpose. Many who desired to run as delegates to the state convention failed to properly qualify before the time limit set by the committee, hence the called meeting.

Hate is a poisonous spear which penetrates to the vital part when wielded by a hater.

Alabama's Junior Order Meets Here

You welcome all good emigrants who intend to become good American citizens. This is right and proper because we need all such. But how to get this kind is the problem. Under our present law only a per cent of the population of any country is permitted to come in and the safe guards thrown around such emigrants is very loose, the trouble is we do not select the emigrant in the proper place. He lands here and if he does not suit us we can send him back but in the meantime we have him on our hands.

It is like ordering a bushel of potatoes a great many of them are found to be bad. They could be returned, but in the meantime they would be on your hands, and it would be some trouble to get rid of them, whereas if you went to the store and selected your own potatoes you would probably get good ones. We should go to foreign ports of embarkation and handpick those whom we wish to come to this country.

After these emigrants are here it becomes our solemn duty to teach them to become good American citizens, we should do this by compelling those of school age to attend our public schools, and night schools for the older ones where they will be taught the principles of our government and to speak the English language.

You say we have no room for anarchists in this country and you are right again. We have the greatest government on the face of the earth, and we will not permit anyone to tear it down. Anyone who cannot live under any government cannot live under any government on the face of the earth, and therefore do not deserve to live at all.

You also emphasize freedom of worship, encourage religious liberty, and the reading of the Bible in the Public schools without sectarian bias. One of the foundations on which America stands, but all of this means Patriotism Pure and Simple. What is Patriotism? "The passion which moves a person to serve his country, either in defending it from invader or protecting its rights and maintaining its laws and institutions."

Being loud and vehement either for or against a government is no proof of patriotism; but where the heart is right there is true patriotism. Patriotism is good citizenship, and good citizenship means good government.

When we think of government we usually begin at the top and think down, whereas we ought to commence at the bottom and think up. We begin at Washington and Congress, whereas, we ought to begin at home and think up. Government begins in the smallest political unit in our system—community, city, county, state and nation.

If we do not have good citizenship at home we cannot expect to have it in the nation.

But the foundation of all this is our moral standard, and where are we going to get it. If it is not taught in our schools and churches? Do you know that there are more than eleven million children in this country, who get no religious training whatever?

There are more than ten thousand children in this state that never heard the Bible read. The remainder of no children in the U. S. that do receive religious training, do not get on an average of more than fifteen or twenty minutes a week. If this state of affairs continues what will it lead to? Is it not reasonable to say that a child should have as much religious training as it gets in any one subject as far as the high school?

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph.—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 210 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you at it has Mrs. Baker and many, many other women.

But how will they get it? My idea is this we have churches of all denominations, which are generally open about three hours a week, why not use some part of our public school education?

Let a certain period of time be devoted to religious instruction and let the child go to the church that the parents choose and there receive religious and moral training, and let them be marked on the Public school records, just as they are marked on other studies. Then they will have a real religious and moral foundation.

Many Fine Speeches

Following the address of welcome a number of appreciative responses were made. Past Counselor Knock expressed his thanks for the warm words of welcome and the splendid suggestions made by Mr. Payne. He was followed by E. R. Calhoun, State Secretary, who delivered the formal address in response to Mayor Payne.

Deputy National Counselor W. J. Nesbit, of Decatur, representing the National Order, was the next speaker. Mr. Nesbit called attention to the activities of the Junior Order in this state, with especial reference to the legislation requiring that the Bible be read in all the public schools of the state. He said that the placing of an American flag on every school building was an accomplishment, sponsored first by the Juniors, and that the movement against unrestricted immigration was first started by the Junior Order.

Junior Past Counselor Stevens, made a speech full of forceful language in which a pledged his life and his loyalty to the principles for which the Junior Order stands. In introducing Coleman Peck, a Past Counselor. Mr. Knock, who presided throughout the evening, said a man named Strange, a lawyer, died, requesting the single line—"An honest Lawyer", and to protests of his wife that his name should appear on the tomb stone, the lawyer stated that it would be superfluous as every body would say in reading the inscription "that is strange". Mr. Peck stated the cardinal principles for which the Juniors stood; and declared that they were accomplishing their ends in America. Deputy Counselor Fullington, of Gadsden, next spoke, most acceptably and at length. Following other out of town delegates Melvin Hutson, the Present State Counselor, was introduced amid cheers, and made a characteristic speech, in which he recounted the ideals and plans of the Junior Order. He told in an attractive way, that the kind of immigration he believed in, was the birth into our American life of children born of American parents. The last speaker of the evening was W. C. Humphrey, of Huntsville, Past Deputy Counselor.

"SAVED BY WIRELESS"

Thrilling Rescue Effected By Means of Aeroplane—Princess Theater Wednesday

An ever-alert wireless operator, hidden from the eyes of the world in his little cabin in a gigantic European radio telegraphic station, recently succeeded in catching in his delicate receiving apparatus a message which brought a thrill of joy to three hopeless explorers buried in the heart of Africa. This incident is sensationally depicted in "Saved by Wireless," the fourth and final graphic picture of the Paramount super-spectacle, "The Mistress of the World," which is coming to the Princess Theater next Wednesday with Mia May in the star role.

This message resulted in a giant aeroplane being sent to Central Africa and two men and a woman were rescued, but not without exciting adventures for all concerned as "Saved by Wireless" proves.

If you saw the previous pictures of this series you will more than enjoy this episode.

Mr. W. F. Reuther,
Decatur, Ala.

My Dear Sir:
The Reuther fountain pen came through all O. K., and I wish to say that it is in the highest degree satisfactory. I believe it is the best fountain pen I have ever used. No pen could write with more delightful smoothness. Many makes of fountain pens, as you know, are exceedingly scratchy and stinging and hesitating and jerky in the flow of ink, but this Reuther Pen, I find, is notable for absence of all these undesirable qualities. I congratulate you on the perfection of your pen.

Very sincerely yours,

NEWS OF ATHENS AND LIMESTONE COUNTY

The Snow Pryor Bible Class was entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. P. Chandler, who was assisted in receiving by Miss Snow Pryor. The guests were then ushered into the dining room by Mrs. Thomas Frost where a lovely fee course was served by Mesdames W. P. Chandler, Jr., and W. S. Peebles, while from the distance sweet strains of music were wafted from the piano under the skillful touch of Miss Lila Coleman.

On April 23, Miss Toshi Sheba of the Athens College gave a very interesting talk at the Methodist church on items of her home land. She spoke with composure and with gentle, sweet manner, won the applause of her hearers. She is the daughter of a very prominent leader in Japan, who had for years been a very successful newspaper man. She came to the College through the influence of our own beloved Ruby Vanhooser. Next Monday morning at ten o'clock Dr. E. E. Violette, of Kansas City, will address the Limestone County Minister's Association at the Court-house. Dr. Violette is one of the foremost ministers of America and every minister in the county should hear him. The owner of the Courier has long needed more room for the paper as its growth has been so phenomenal during the past few years that its equipment has crowded its office until it was imperative that more was needed, and work has begun on the building in which it has been housed for many years, and another story is to be added to the building, and the one adjoining it, and in addition, the building is to be extended forty feet in the rear, and when this improvement is completed, which will be at an early date, it will have one of the most modern and up-to-date plants in the State.

Mrs. John Chadwick, of Nashville, is visiting her popular young daughter, Mrs. Nelson Cartwright, Jr., in this place. She always finds a cordial welcome from many friends.

Miss Ellen Duffey, of Nashville, has been the attractive guest of her charming sister, Miss Dorothy D. Duffey, at Athens College the past week-end.

Mrs. Gussie Newby, who has been quite ill, is improving. She is staying with her sister, Mrs. Davis at Elkmont. Her many friends trust that she will soon be able to return to her home on Coleman Hill.

Mr. S. A. Davis, our popular City Clerk, is in New Orleans this week, attending the Shriner's Convention. Mr. Davis is a member of the great Birmingham Shriner Band, and he is there with this band.

Mr. and Mrs. Nute Hatchett entertained the Tuesday evening whist club at their home Tuesday evening last. Five tables were filled and a most delightful evening spent by the devotees of the interesting game.

Miss Vera Holmes and Miss Lovin gave their graduating recital Monday evening at the Music Hall and their friends were not disappointed in the splendid manner in which they acquitted themselves.

Mr. Luther Schrimsher died at the home of her father, John Strange, Tuesday, April 18th.

The most appropriate and elaborate observance of Decoration Day in Athens in many years was held Wednesday afternoon, following a splendid dinner served the Civil War veterans at the Methodist church. At two o'clock the line of march, including survivors of three wars, formed at the courthouse and marched to the cemetery, which had been beautifully decorated by the faithful few, who perform this service year after year.

Prof. J. M. Atkinson was master of ceremonies, which were opened with prayer by Dr. Husk. The singing of patriotic songs, led by Thomas Petros, on the cornet, was one feature of an interesting program. Excellent orations were delivered by two talented home boys, Fred Robinson and Thomas Petros, and a pleasing speech by Mr. W. E. Willis. The memorial address by Hon. C. W. Ashcraft of Florence was the outstanding number in the program. The speech was a model of good taste and eloquence, befitting the occasion. Every school in the town attended the exercises and the college girls in their white dresses and red scarfs and pupils of the other schools, each carrying a wreath or garland, was an inspiring sight. Representatives from the American Legion fired the closing salute. Mrs. J. M. Atkinson president of the Joseph E. Johnston Chapter U. D. C. is a most efficient woman in whatever she undertakes, as has been often demonstrated during her residence in Athens, and especially her administration as head of the local U. D. C.

The Saturday afternoon bridge club held a delightful meeting with Mrs. Pryor Williams last week. The hostess was assisted in entertaining

Don't Risk Neglect

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. An Albany case.

Mrs. Duria Roper, 218 Moulton St., says: "My back became weak and I had such a terrible hurting across my kidneys, I could hardly get about the house. I could scarcely straighten after bending and I became so dizzy, black specks danced before my eyes, almost blinding me. Mornings I was so lame and sore across my back, I could hardly get up. My kidneys didn't act right and I used Doan's Kidney Pills for the trouble. Doan's rid me of all the distress and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Roper had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement
